She has a perfectly white face and hands and short kinky hat, with the features of a negro. The roman she suddenly turned white, when she suddenly turned white, so for one year, when she turned black again. Since that time she is alternately white and black, not alone in spots, but changes color entirely. She is fairly in-telligent, and says she has never had a spell of sickness and has never taken a dose of medicine. She lives near Sallis Station, on the Canton and Aberdeen road. She says she cannot stand the sun at all, and wears a double veil and heavy gl ves. She says if the sun shines on her skin for one minute it causes it to blister at once. She has been examined by physicians, who are unable to account for the change in her color.

Easy on Boys.

[North Carolina Teacher.]
At a recent board school examination for girls, one of the tasks was an essay on boys, and this was one of the compoon bys, and this was one of the compositions, just as it was handed in by a girl of 12: "The boy is not an animal, yet they can be heard to a considerable distance. When a boy hollers he opens his big mouth like frogs, but girls hold their toung till they are spoke to, and then they answer respectable and tell just how it was. A boy thinks himself clever because he can wade where it is deep, but God made the dry land for every living thing, and rested on the seventh day. pirith old book 50 priced $15 ander a ning the index, finally discovered what he wanted and then turned to a page in the book. Hastily glancing at it he called 'Squire Gass to his side. Pointing to an entry on the top of the page which read "Kate Riley vs. Kentucky," he said: "This entry has been tampered with." On the lines opposite the entry was one which gave the cause of the suit. It was for $290 for wine sold and de-livered by Kate Riley, the notorious Longworth street landlady. The date of the entry is November 2, 1882, and shows that the papers were served by Constable Al Leonard. Further along in the entry is the statement that on No. vember 6, 1882, the money was paid and suit dismissed.

CARLISLE THE DEFENDANT.

"This tampered with entry here," said Mr. Lanc, "s a suit against John G. Carlisle, and for some reason the entry was changed." The index was referred to, and it was found that the record read. Likelq Biley against J. G. Carlisle.

and also a copy of the entry on the index.
When asked what he wanted with it he said that Senator Carlisle had not acted square with him in certain money matters and that he was looking the matter up for this reason.

Lane acted in a very mysterious man ner, and it is thought that his explana tion as to why he wanted the informais that he is a s cret agent of some person or persons who are working against the interests of Mr. Carlisle, and that the transcript Lane secured will be on its way to Washington soon. The lowe entry on the docket says that the suit was dismissed at the cost of plaintiff.

"You can say that there is a base conspiracy working to keep Carlisle out of the cabinet and that there will be an arrest for criminal libel to follow within few days. I don't mean that any news paper man will be arrested, but that the instigator of this whole miserable business will be brought before the courts."

HE BECOMES RETICENT. But, Judge, is the docket false?" "I don't say that. I do reiterate, how ever, that there is a fraud under the whole aff ir and that it will now be exposed. I shall telegraph to Washington instantly."

"Is the secret enemy of Carlisle located in Cincinnati?"

"I won't say even that at, th time. There is too much in this con spiracy to have it all sprung at once."
Further than this Mr. Pugh could no be induced to talk at present.

CARLISLE DENIES THE STORY. Senator Ca-lisle was telegraphed the particulars of the Lane episode, and the following answer came from him:

"WASHINGTON, D. C .- I never heard of the alleged proceedings until a few days ago. Of course the man is an enemy. I have telegraphed my attorney at Cin J. G. CARLISLE.

SOAP BECOMING A LUXURY.

Price Has Risen and Threatens to Go Much Higher.

PHILADELPHIA, PA.—'The rate at which so is advanting in price, if continued will soon place that article among the luxuries. One month ago it advanced 25 cents per box, about two weeks ago t further advance of 15 cents was added, and Friday the wholesalers were placing orders at an advance of 60 cents on the box. Manufacturers and dealers say the top price has not yet been reached and hesitate about predicting anything except that the outlook at present points to still further rise.

The advance is due to a scarcity of cattle and hogs, which has put up the price of tallow and lard. Tallow and lard, which a few months ago were exported to Germany, are now being sent back to this country, where they meet with a ready sale at a price which makes it desirable to import them.

All lubricating and machinery oils advanced, and cottolene and other vege-table oils have also advanced on account of increased consumption. The vegeta-ble pils are being largely substituted for for lubrics, both for making soaps and

THE Walle purposes The Pool in National Cordage Divides Profits of $2,600.000.

NEW YORK, N. Y .- A meeting wa held in a well-known Wall street office after business hours at which $1,370,000 in cash was distributed among those present by James R. Keene. The cccasion was the distribution of the profits that have accrued from Mr. Keene's bull campaign in the stocks of the National Cordage Company. The attendance at the meeting was not large, yet it included all of those who have co operated with Mr. Keene in one of the most successfu operations he has ever made; for besides the cash profits divided, Mr. Keene reported that the combination had qu'el sets of the value of $1,200,000, making the total profits of the deal nearly $2,600.

Served With Notice to Quit.

TOPEKA, KANS .- Just before the House adjourned, Speaker Dunsmore, Populist, arose and handed to Speaker Dougla s, the Republican presiding officer, a sealed communication. Dunsmore said he de sired Doug'ass not to make its contents known until Wednesday, and exacted a promise from him not to reveal its pur port. Then both houses agreed to adjourn un'il 9 o'clock Wednesd y morning. As soon as adjournment was had both Speakers rapped for order and announced a caucus in the evening.

These caucus s considered the contents of the communication handed the Republican speaker by the Populist speaker. The letter is notice for the Republicans to quit. It sets forth that the R-publican house is an illegal body; that the Republicans are obs ructionists, delaying the business of the House, and notifies Speaker Douglas that he and all the alleged Republican clerks and officials must withdraw and no longer attempt to usurp the powers of the Popu ist House, which is the only legal House of Representatives.
